The meeting was opened to the public: Erin McClelland, a candidate for the US Congress, introduced herself to the Board and residents and presented her background and views on the position.

Edward Ankney stated there is a drainage problem on Ankney Road and would like to have the problem fixed. Mr. Ankney asked if the road could be mowed to help with the site distance at the intersection of State Route 217 and Ankney Road. A discussion was held.

James Smen who lives on Willow Run Road stated he got a letter regarding blasting on the Jelly Farm and questioned what permit this is being operated under. Vincent DeCario explained this would be a DEP permit and no activity will be conducted for at least 6 months. A discussion was held. All questions need to be referred to DEP (Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection).

Kelly Tua Hammer thanked the Supervisors for coming to address the Loyalhanna water runoff with Mr. Pillsberry and sending a letter to Black and Gold regarding the removal of a shed. A discussion was held.

Randy Daugherty questioned if a permit was needed to move the crusher on the Jelly Farm and if any permits were required to haul on the road. Vincent DeCario explained a road bond would be needed depending on what direction was taken either a Township or State. Mr. Daugherty questioned if more information could be given at the next Township meeting regarding this blasting process. Vincent DeCario stated he would call the owner and try to get him to attend the next meeting. Mr. DeCario explained the bonding process.
